

CREDIT TRANSFER TOWARDS THE MSc in Strategic Management of Information Systems

Essential Information

Please retain for the duration of your studies with
The Open University

In order to qualify for the MSc in Strategic Management of Information Systems you will need to complete at least 180 points as shown in the chart below. This table also indicates the degree components against which credit transfer can be awarded:

Degree component	Type and amount of credit transfer available towards this component, if any
60 points from Compulsory group 1	60 points of Course Related Credit
30 points from Compulsory group 2	None
60 points from Compulsory group 3	None
30 points from Core optional modules	30 points Full Rate Credit
Maximum credit transfer available towards this OU qualification	90 points

Credit for previous relevant study elsewhere can be used in place of OU modules as indicated under each category in this table, up to a maximum of 90 points, provided certain conditions are met. You should read this document in conjunction with the award regulations.

What award of credit will I receive?

We award credit in units of 5 points, up to a maximum of 90 points of credit transfer towards the MSc in Strategic Management of Information Systems. If your previous study amounts to more than this limit, we will select those points that will give you the most beneficial award.

Please note that credit transfer is awarded in the context of the particular award towards which you are claiming it. This means that you may be able to get credit transfer against a specific OU course in some Open University qualifications but not in others.

Whatever your awards of credit transfer, you will have to include within your degree at least 90 points of Open University courses suitable for inclusion within the MSc in Strategic Management of Information Systems.

Types of credit transfer

Course-related credit can be awarded only if the student's previous study is considered to be equivalent to (matches by 80%) the level, content, and breadth of this Open University module. Course Related Credit is effectively an exemption from a particular OU course in recognition of previous study.

Full-rate credit can be awarded if the study at, or equivalent to, the UK undergraduate level of the OU study concerned, and is considered relevant in terms of subject and/or skills development. Unlike course-related credit, the previous study does not have to match the subject content of a particular OU module

Time Constraints

If you claim credit transfer towards the MSc in Strategic Management of Information Systems from Jan 2007 onwards the following time constraints will come into use.

Any full rate credit will be active for a period of 10 years from the completion date of the study for which credit is given. If there is more than one period of study then the earliest date will be used.

Where course related credit is awarded this will cease to be usable after 10 years from the date of the last presentation of the relevant OU course.

The Unique Study rule

For each OU award, there must be an amount of OU study that is unique to that particular award (OU credit which has not previously been counted towards another award). The proportion required is normally one-third of the total points required for the qualification being studied.
